

High Performance
Equestrian Foundation

JUMPING CLINIC

With Joe Fargis

An exciting opportunity to learn from the best

Joe Fargis made history in the 1984 Olympics by winning both the individual and team gold medals in show jumping riding Touch of Class. He was also a member of the 1988 Olympic silver medal team. He continues to compete - and win - at the highest levels of Grand Prix competition. He is considered one of the most successful riders ever to have represented the United States. Joe is also a highly regarded and much sought after instructor and clinician. Joe Fargis will teach a jumping clinic at Foxcroft School on December 12, 2009 to benefit the High Performance Equestrian Foundation.

- Different jumping heights for all riding levels
- Auditors are welcome
- $150 for clinic participants; $20 for auditors

When: December 12, 2009

Where: Foxcroft School
Middleburg, VA

Times: Low jumper 2'6" - 9am-11am
Intermediate jumper 3' - 11:15am-1:15pm
Advanced jumper 3'6"+ - 2:00pm-4pm

Please note: Numbers in clinic sessions are limited to 7 per session; please sign up ASAP. Closing date for registration is December 1, 2009. Auditors may pay at door.

To sign up: Download the registration forms at www.equestrianfoundation.org or call 540-687-6369 for forms

Proceeds from the Clinic will benefit the High Performance Equestrian Foundation